THE SOVEREIGN RULE OF SOUTH CAROLINA Views of Southern Laws, Life, and Hospitality Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

THE above work forms a beautiful 12mc volume of over 300 pages, small pica. Price—in paper, 50 cents; mustin, 75 cents. The usual discount to the Trade. Orders solicited. Copies sent by mail, prepaid, any distance under 3,000 miles, for 61 cents.

The above work is a delineation of the scenes and incidents connected with the imprisonment, in 1852 of Manuel Pereira, steward of the British brig Jan son, in the jail of Charleston, S. C.

The following notice of this work is copied from the National Bra of February 17:

"The above is the title of a work now in press founded upon that infamous statute of South Carolina by which her citizens claim a right to imprison coloreal scamen, of all nations, and even those cast upon their shores in distress. We have perused the book in advance of its publication, and find that it gives a life like picture of Pereira, the vessel in which he sailed the storms she encountered, and her wrecked condition when brought into the port of Charleston, S. C.; to gether with the imprisonment of Pereira, several seamen belonging to the New England States, and two French seamen; the prison regimen, character of the Charleston police, and the mendacity of certain officials, who make the law a medium of peculation. The work is replete with incidents of Southern life and character, pointing Southerners to the things that call for correction at their own hands, with a force that cannot be mistaken. The work is written by one who has taken a prominent part in the affairs of the South, and cannot fail to interest alike the general reader, commercial man, and philanthropist."

The above work can be obtained, at wholesale prices, from

"ROLLO ON THE ATLANTIC,"

DEAUTIFULLY illustrated with original designs.
By Jacob Abbott.

"Rollo on the Atlantic" is the first book of a series to be published under the general title of Rollo's Tour in Europe.

Extract from the Preface:

"The books are intended to be books of instruction, rather than of mere amusement; and, in perusing them, the reader may feel assured that all the information which they contain, not only in respect to the countries visited, and to the customs, usages, and modes of life that are described, but also in regard to the general character of the incidents and adventures that the young travellers meet with, is in most strict accordance with fact. The main design of the narrative is thus the communication of useful knowledge; and everything which they contain, except what is strictly personal, in relation to the actors in the story, may be depended upon as exactly and sempulously true."

THE BEST MAGAZINE.

The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, IN literary morit and sterling worth, is without question the best Magazine published. It is such because it comprises, in moderate compass and convenient form, the excellences—the cream, so to speak, of all the leading Foreign Quarterlies and Magazines, and the productions of their most gifted pens. In this rospect, the Eclectic has a decided advantage over all other Megazines. Omitting articles of mere local interest and minor importance to the American reader, its pages offer to its patrons a large amount of literary wenith, of permanent value, at a small price.

The Eclectic is published in monthly numbers of 144 pages each, making three large volumes a year, and nearly 1,800 pages, richly embellished with 12 aplendid portraits of distinguished persons or historical subjects. The price is $5 a year. The January number begins a new volume. Now is a good time to subscribe. Orders for the work are solicited. It will be sent promptly by mail to all who order it.

Cookers as it should be? and papil of Mrs. Goodfellow. With appropriate illustrations. 12mc, cloth or half-bound, 75 conts.
Cookery as it should be? Ah, well, that's a pretty bold tifle! And a dubious one, too, exclaims another, for if the authoress is going to tell us what it should be, that will be nothing new, for we all know by daily experience what it should and could be, but what it is not. Well, she tells you what it should be, and how to make it so; and in short, plain, practical, and simple rules, such as the result of a long and constantly active experience in providing for the daily wants of a large household, enables her to do in the very best manner. Every one who has eaten at our authoress's board will bear ample testimony to the excellent qualities of the many good things she daily sets before thom, prepared under her own superintendence, and the rules for making which she herein sets forth.

The recipes of the world-renowned Mrs. Goodfellow, for cakes, pastry, and sweetmeats, are now for the first time collected together for the benefit of all who desire to be good housekeepers.

In short, this new Cook Book is offered to the public as the best which has ever been propared, and the publisher invites all housekeepers to purchase it and give it a trial, confident that they will recommend it to their friends as the only practical Cook Book of which they can make daily use in all their household duties.

vigorous enforcement of Prohibitory Laws when obtained.

Its Field.—Dealing with general principles, with arguments alike applicable to overy community where the traffic oxists, and with facts illustrative of these arguments and principles, the paper will be National in its spirit, in its scope, in its purpose, and, we trust, it will be National in its circulation and influence. Such is our aim and expectation. We desire to see the Principle of Prohibition established in State after State, till it becomes the recognised policy of the Nation. It is our ambition to bear a part in this great work, and to this end The Prohibitions is established, not as the organ of a society merely, but of a Great Repormatory Movement.

Its Necessity.—The existing Temperance Journals have little, if any, circulation outside of the Temperance Ranks. Their price almost necessarily restricts them to the friends of the cause. The Prohibitories ham of the indifferent and the hostile. For this purpose it is put at a price so low as to enable the friends of Temperance in every school district, by combined scotion and at an inconsiderable expense, to place a copy in each family that will consent to receive it.

Its Price.—One copy for one year — $0.50

NEW STORY BY GEORGE LIPPARD. THE undersigned will commence, on or about the 1st of February, in the "Philadelphia Sunday Mercery," the publication of a thrilling and interesting story, written expressly for that paper, by George Lippard, entitled

Lippard, entitled
ELEANOR: Or, SLAVE CATCHING IN THE QUAKER CITY.

The story is founded on facts connected with the operations of the "Fugitive Slave Law" in the city of Brotherly Love, and in point of interest is fully equal to Mr. Lippard's celebrated work, "The Quaker City."

A new volume of the Mercury commences with the New Year, and all who wish to subscribe to one of the best family newspapers published in the United States, should forward their names without delay.

THE GREAT AMERICAN TEMPERANCE TALE

THE WEAL AND WOE OF SOCIAL LIFE.

One Volume 12mo, $1.

THE object of this tale is to exhibit in difference of the phases, in high life and low life, the accurrences of intemperate drinking, the bane of sociation, the curse of civilized man. The characters well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes described with much spirit and graphic effect. *

We are disposed to regard the book as the bof its kind that has yet appeared.—Boston Travel.

It is not often that we read a story of any kind, but we have broken our practice, and have read this book not only with pleasure, but with a gratification which but very few novels have ever afforded us. It is a quiet and simple, but still striking and affective picture of American social life.—Chicago Tribune. Written with marked ability .- Zanesville Courier bane of social life, intemperance.—Richmond Palladaum.

The style is attractive and fascinating; there is a freshness and originality about it, that is very pleasing. * * * One of its chief merits is the excellence of its conversations.—Enquirer.

Has so many thrilling passages and well-drawn characters, that you read it with absorbed attention. It cannot fall to achieve for Mrs. Collins an enviable popularity. She takes us with her to the drunkard's home, and tells of the hunger and the fear, the toil and the suffering, that are there. She paints, with a woman's delicate skill, the meck patience, the long-abused, but unchanging love of the drunkard's wife, teuches the deepest chords of the heart, and makes them vibrate with pity and with indignation. Christian Herald.

Though Mrs. Collins has already hosts of admirers of her literary productions, this work, we predict, will increase that number ten-fold, and give her a reputation worthy of her high talents.—New Albany Tribune.

Albany Tribuno.

The style is easy, natural, beautiful, chaste, and at times very eloquent. We would commend it especially to young ladies, that they may see to what dangers they are exposed, in forming alliances with the fashionable in high life.—Ohio Organ.

A deeply interesting and powerful work. It vivid-ly portrays some of the terrific exploits of strong drink in both high and low life. Nor are such scenes as it depicts either imaginary or few. Let this book circulate. It has a boneficent aim, and is the vehicle of admirably old and most salulary lossons.—Pres-buterian.

of admirably old and most salulary lessons.—Presbyterian.

* * Has sketched it in its daintiest form of fascination, as well as in its grim and dismal aspect of open degradation. Rarely has a woman vontured to hold the torch to such a dark recess of human woo.—Daily Times.

We know of no passage, anywhere, more uniquely beautiful, more intensely absorbing, more overpowering in the pathetic, than the thirty-fourth chapter. It is indeed a gem. We doubt whether the celebrated chapter devoted to the death of Eva, in Uncle Tom's Cabin, is superior. * * It is certainly the most powerful temperance tale that we have ever perused.—Journal and Messenger.

Boautifully written. * * A work of great strength and power.—Gospel Herald.

* * The incidents dramatic, and the interest intense to the end.—Ohio Statesman.

Graphic, truthful, chaste, and deeply affecting, the story winds itself into our feelings, and we become absorbed in the plot, as if we beheld before our own eyes the realities of the author's delineations.—Daily Sun.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT! ELEVENTH VOLUME OF THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST

THE LEADING

Weekly Agricultural Paper of the Country.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST, a weekly Periodical of sixteen large quarte pages, making an annual volume of 632 pages of nearly double the size of those in the first ten volumes of the Agriculturist.

turist.

It is beautifully printed with type cast express for it, and on the best of clear white paper, with wis margin, so that the numbers can be easily stitched or bound together.

A copious Index is weekly added, which will the fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bour work.

or bound togother.

A copious Index is weekly added, which will be fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound work.

Comprehensive in its Character,

Each volume will contain all matter worth recording, which transpires either at home or abroad, and which can serve to instruct or interest the Earmor, the Planter, the Fruit-Grower, the Gardener, and the Stock-Breeder; thus making it the most complete and useful Agricultural Publication of the day.

Correct and valuable Market Reports.

The Markets will be carefully reported, giving the actual transactions which take place from week to week, in Grain, Provisions, Cattle, &c.; thus keeping our readers constantly and reliably advised as to their interests. During the past year, the knowledge obtained from these Market Reports alone has saved our readers thousands of dollars, by informing them of the best time to sell or purchase.

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming Community.

The publishers confidently believe that the agriculturists of this country are becoming too much awake to the demands of their own calling to be longer satisfied with the slow monthly issues of a paper professedly devoted to their interests, or to trust alone to the irresponsible extracts in a "farmer's column," so popular just now in papers chiefly devoted to business, politics, or literature; and they look for the united aupport of all the intelligent farmers of this country in their confinued effort to furnish a weekly paper of a high and reliable character, which shall be progressive, and at the same time cuttous and conservative in all its teachings.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

The Agriculturist will not depart from its legitimate aphere to catch popular favor by lumbering up its pages, with the silly, fletitious literature, and light, miscellamous matter of the day, it has a higher aim; and a small part only of its space will be devoted to matters not immediately portaining to the great apriculture. The household as well as the out-door work of the farm will rec

They will be assisted by Prof. Nash, who has been for a long time one of the most successful farmers of New England, and is now Agricultural Professor of Amherst College; Rev. Wm. Clift, widely known as a pleasing and instructive writer on gardoning and other departments of practical agriculture, and, in addition to these, a number of other eminent agricultural writers.

All the editors are men practically experienced in their profession, each of whom can handle the Plow as well as the Pen.

The Cheapest Paper in the country, of its character.

The American Agriculturist is supplied to regular subscribers at a cost of less than four cents a number, of sixteen large pages; and to large clubs for less than two and a half cents. Each number will contain suggestions for the treatment of soils, mannes, crops, stock, &c., which will often be worth to the reader more than the cost of the paper for a year.

more than the cost of the paper for a year.

Specimen Copies.

Specimen copies will be forwarded, gratis, to any one sending their name and post office address to the publishers.

TREMS, &c.—The paper will be promptly sected on Wednesday of each week, and mailed to subscribers on the following liberal torns:
